WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9.

Pearl Transcript: St. John is lecturing to empty houses. We know of no man who can entertain an empty house better than Mr. St. John.

Ex-Governors Curtis of Penusy, Pennsylvania, Kirkwood, of Iowa, Ramsey, of Minnesota, and Sprague, of Rhode Island, are the only "true governors" now living.

Editor George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, whose reputation for considerate kindness is already wide in the country, has added another to the long list of his benefactors. He has purchased a ticket for a summer excursion to Europe, which is to be presented to a lady teacher in the public schools of Baltimore, the recipient to be selected by a committee appointed for the purpose.

The figures show, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, that during the year ending May 21, 1886, our exports fell off to the extent of over $63,000,000, while our imports increased to the amount of $31,000,000, our aggregate differences against us, as compared with the preceding year, of $100,000,000. This may not be wholly attributable to political causes, but it will be very difficult to convince the people that democratic control of the government has been beneficial when such facts are presented after a year's experience in that respect.

Local option elections were held Monday at many points in North Carolina. There was much excitement, but the elections passed off quietly. The prohibitionists carried the day at Raleigh by 60 majority, and also the following places: Concord, Oxford, Kingsland, Henderson, Warrington, Louisville, Winston-Salem, Apex, Beaufort and Seaboard. The anti-prohibitionists carried the election at Charlotte, Durham, Franklin, Redfield, Holly Springs, Morehead, Ashville, Goldsboro, Littleton and Statesville. The election was upon the question of license or no license for sale of spirituous liquors and goes into effect at once when prohibition was carried.

Chicago elevators, as per official returns contain 8,213,700 bushels of wheat, 2,188,421 bushels of corn, 883,557 bushels of oats, 26,438 bushels of rye and 30,822 bushels of barley—making a grand total of 11,827,937 bushels, against 10,252,051 bushels a week ago and 15,828,847 bushels at this period last year. Grain in sight in the United States and Canada: Wheat 38,455,639 bushels, corn $861,586 bushels, oats 2,168,991 bushels, rye 282,793 bushels, barley 250,045 bushels. The above figures compared with those a week ago show a lossage of 1,423,128 bushels of wheat and 32,429 bushels of barley, and an increase of 303,651 bushels of corn, 25,167 bushels of oats, and 8,243 bushels of rye.—Chicago Journal of Tuesday.

A farmer from Louisiana died of hydrocephalus Monday, while under treatment by M. Pasteur at Paris. The Romanian was bitten by a rabid dog May 11, and received M. Pasteur May 25. After he had been under treatment for eleven days he exhibited symptoms of hydrocephalus Saturday last, and suffered the agonies of rabies for nearly forty-eight hours before death removed him. The man's death and all the circumstances attending his case are held to upset the theory about the period required for hydrocephalus to incubate, for the farmer was under M. Pasteur's treatment a long while before the expiration of the time heretofore deemed requisite for the poisonous saliva to obtain control of the victim's system.

Among the large number of frauds almost daily reported by the postoffice inspectors to the department at Washington, is one which came from Ohio. The parties, whose names are withheld, advertised a preparation to be used by farmers in clearing land. It is set forth that when the preparation is deposited in the stamp, it will, after remaining two months, make the stamp so combustible that it will when lighted burn out the stump roots, etc. Guarantees and recommendations are furnished in large numbers and the manipulators are gathering in large remittances. In return they send packages of salt tinctured to give a red color. They have been apprehended for using the salts for fraudulent purposes, and will shortly be tried in the federal court.

The Mark Lane Express, of London, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: The season hitherto has decidedly favored spring sown crops. The trade has favored buyers. The sales of English wheat during the past week were 40,763 quarters at 32 shillings 2 pence, against 42,200 quarters at 34 shillings 6 pence during the corresponding week last year. Flour is stilling 3 pence lower. Foreign wheats are further depressed. The reaction in America is regarded as solely due to gambling operations. American flour is fully 6 pence lower. There were three arrivals and four sales. Ten emigrants were withdrawn and three remain, two of which are Oregon. Trade forward amounts to virtually nothing. Sellers are more disposed to meet buyers. At to-day's market wheat was 6 pence lower. Flour was very dull. Corn steadily. The price of mixed Americans were further against buyers. Oats were 6 pence lower.

The postoffice department has completed a review of postmasters' salaries under the readjustment act of 1882 by which additional allowance is made to all third and fourth class postmasters who served between 1861 and 1874. The review shows that in Wisconsin there are 894 postmasters of that period, among whom will be distributed $30,364.92 in sums ranging from $5 to $500 each, as additional compensation for services

WILL TRIUMPH AT LAST.

ADVOCATES OF HOME RULE CONFIDENT OF ULTIMATE VICTORY.

Gladstone Will Take the Question to the British Voter—Political Activity—Orange Rejoicing and Malice—Another Bloody Riot at Belfast—Chamberlain and Sir Keely Swap Pointed Notes.

LONDON, June 9.—The result of Thursday night's vote on the home rule bill is that dissolution has been decided upon. The cabinet had a meeting at which, after discussion, the conclusion was reached that the solution was the course best to be adopted. The bill was the cause lost but the cabinet will not be dissolved. Gladstone will call parliament to meet with the supply bill, after which the home rule question will be taken to the country. Dissolution will probably take place June 20. The cabinet was at first divided between resignation and dissolution, but Gladstone was omnipotent in his determination to dissolve parliament, and the cabinet unanimously agreed upon that course.

Gladstone is frequent telegraphic communication with the queen, the prime minister, and the cabinet, and a package containing lengthy dispatches.

Mr. John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, in a speech at the Eighty club, said he did not know when he should resign. He believed that despite the defeat of the bill it would become a law in a very short time. Certain constituents, he said, would never consent to coercion, which meant the dissolution of parliament.

Mr. Amison is a resident of Nashville, Tenn., and a member of the Tennessee legislature for three terms. He and other officers resulted as follows:

James F. Reynolds, of New York, first vice president; Charles Gamwell, of Philadelphia, second vice president; David M. Pascoe, editor of The Tocsin, of Philadelphia, secretary and treasurer. David P. Boyce was elected chief organizer.

The Radical dissidents intend to organize a Radical union, with the following programme: a large extension of local government to England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland; the imperial parliament to exercise supreme control. Chamberlain is to be president, Joss Collings, secretary, and many prominent Radical members of the house of commons will act as vice presidents.

Chamberlain on May 31, wrote to James O'Keeley, member for Rosemont and representative of a New York morning paper, as follows:

"You wrote to a New York paper, stating your letter from the house of commons, that I had publicly described Mr. Gladstone in language which is usually reserved for drunken rowdies and unfit for publication. You also wrote that I go among Radicals and Liberal members saying to them privately: 'We must get rid of Gladstone.' Your remarks were quite irrelevant to my work. The dysmanitists will do his work, and sooner or later will kill him."

"Both of these statements are absolutely untrue and untrue, and I demand your authority therefore, or that you publicly withdraw them."

Buffalo, N. Y., was chosen as the next place of meeting.

WILL PASS A DIVIDEND.

Action of Western Union Directors interpreted thus way.

New York, June 9.—The executive committee of the Western Union Telegraph company met Tuesday. The statement of the company's business during the last three months was submitted. After a careful examination of the document the committee decided to submit the statement to the directors without any recommendations. It became customary for the executive committee to assemble every day preceding the meeting of the directors for the purpose of receiving the quarterly accounts and recommending what dividend should be paid. This is the first time in years that the committee has failed to make such a recommendation. It is stated on reliable authority that the directors will pass the dividend the earnings of the company during the past three months rendering the payment of a dividend impracticable.

Chamberlain rejoiced that he would leave the party to appreciate Mr. O'Keeley's action.

The Irish Mail Gazette announces its expectation that the next parliamentary elections will result in a reversal to Mr. Gladstone and predicts that a second election will be necessary before the Irish question is settled. Probably there may be more secession in Ireland before home rule is granted to the country by consent of the British government, but if the Irish people will be patient, quiet, and orderly, they will have their rights within a year or two.

The St. James' Gazette says: "The great or no of the electors must be spoken before the home rule bill is entirely quashed, but the disruption bill and Mr. Gladstone are both politically dead, past resurrection."

The Globe says: "A most impious, powerful and despotic minister has been told that the house of commons must not be asked to trust him. I accept the responsibility for publishing them and decline to withdraw them, because confidential information in my possession convinces me that you have used expressions with reference to Mr. Gladstone similar to those I have used to you."

Twenty-five years ago to-day the First Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers started for the war.

Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows' hall this evening—regular weekly meeting.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Clark, of Emerald Grove, are now convalescent, after a severe illness.

Skinner has just been having the exterior of his restaurant tastefully decorated. Step in and see how it looks.

The arguments in the case of Wyer against Worthington were made before Justice Prather this morning. The decision is to be given later.

The annual meeting of the Grand Temple of Honor will be held in Madison, on one week from to-day. It is thought that there will be a large attendance.

Budget Council No. 223, Royal American, assembles in regular semi-monthly session this evening—lodge room in the Lappin block, East Milwaukee street.

The Methodist Episcopal conference of Wisconsin will meet at Berlin this year, Bishop Merrill presiding. The date set is September 3d rather earlier than usual.

Two drunks were taken in by Marshal Hogan last night. This morning they were brought up before Judge Patten. One received a sentence of five days, the other being set free.

New York News: "Papa, what do they mean when they say a man is qualified for alderman?"

"Well, my son, that depends. Ordinarily it means that his saloon is doing a big business."

The picnics held by the Good Templars and Temple of Honor have always been very enjoyable, and the one to be held next Tuesday will be no exception, as the committee are making arrangements for a grand time.

Street Commissioner Morgan, under direction of the common council, this morning examined the dock of the third ward (court house park) cistern, and pronounced it unsafe. A new dock will be required. Pending repairs, people are warned to "keep off."

This evening, on one of the pleasant streets on the Third ward hill, will be given one of the most popular ladies' teas of the season. It will be largely attended and richly enjoyed, no doubt by all present and in all its appointments will be thoroughly complete.

Workmen are now engaged in repairing the Moultrie bridge, and the committee request that all teams bordering across at that bridge go around by the way of Spring Brook bridge for a day or two, giving the workmen a chance to repair the roadway of the bridge.

Two of the three fire companies in Beloit have voluntarily disbanded, the chief engineer of the department is under arrest, charged with participating in the recent assault on the Salvation Army, and yet the Beloit people wonder why insurance rates are not cut down by their system of water works.

Upon citizens have subscribed five hundred dollars for a Fourth of July celebration. They have also raised two hundred and twenty-five dollars to pay the cornet band for playing on the streets every pleasant evening. It might be a good thing for Jesusville to do something of the kind.

The excursion train that went through this city to Mineral Point over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, this morning, consisted of seven coaches and a baggage car. All of the cars were full of veterans on their way to the reunion that is being held to-day, although there were only a few who went from this city.

There is considerable complaint about dogs running at large, especially in the fourth ward. Some of the animals are said to be so savage as to be positively dangerous, and residents in that part of the city threaten to take the matter into their own hands unless something is done.

The races at Freeport have drawn quite a number of Janesville people to that city for a few days. This is the spring meeting of the Freeport Driving Association. It is to continue four days, and prizes amounting to over three thousand dollars have been offered. There is the largest field of horses ever present at any races in that city, several Wisconsin favorites being among the entries.

"Of course I want to see the street car finished," remarked a first ward lady this morning, "but perhaps it's just as well that the cars aren't ready yet. The way it is now every time I go downtown I save the ten cents I would have spent if they had been running. By fall I'll be rich enough to get me a new dress." And she smiled serenely and walked off thinking how economical she really was.

At Waukesha yesterday a case between parties from this city was brought up before Judge Sloan in the circuit court. of the subscription papers for the new bridge at North Fourth street, informed a Gazette reporter that he had already secured a sufficient sum of money to build the bridge, and was now asking for subscriptions to build the sidewalks. He also informed the Gazette that the work of driving the piling would be commenced as soon as Sept. 1st completed the driving of piles for the dam. He is sure the bridge will be completed before the first section of the street railway is in running order.
